

ABC Insurance Company provides multiple insurance products including life insurance, automobile insurance, and health insurance.

Customers can subscribe to insurance products through insurance policies. Each insurance policy contains coverage information and premium details.

Automobile insurance includes vehicle coverage, driver coverage, and accident coverage. Vehicle information such as vehicle type and vehicle model is used to evaluate insurance risk.

Insurance claims require claim documents and accident information. The insurance company reviews submitted claim documents before approving insurance payments.

Risk factors such as age, driving history, medical history, and property value are used to calculate insurance premiums.

Health insurance covers hospital treatment and medical expenses. Life insurance provides death coverage and disability coverage.
